

Navigating Organizational Performance for HR

A SYSTEMS-BASED LEARNING EXPERIENCE FOR HR PROFESSIONALS

HR professionals are expected to influence performance and guide strategy, yet most were never taught how organizations create value. This program delivered over four 3-hour sessions introduces Organizational Systems Design (OSD) and then puts it into practice: participants work through a realistic business case, applying what they learn to diagnose performance challenges, align workforce decisions with strategy, and lead with greater impact. Moving HR Professionals from useful to strategic.
